

Ligia Pereira

Ligia Pereira is from Brazil, and holds degree in Biological Sciences and Forest and Environmental Sciences from Freiburg University in Germany. Before joining CIFOR, Ms Pereira worked with the Ministry of Science and Technology in the State of Amazonas, and with the Amazon Institute of Environmental Research (Instituto de Pesquisas Ambientales de Amazonía, IPAM) on an environmental project financed by the Department for International Development (DFID). Her graduate thesis was conducted in Germany as part of CIFOR's international program in Indonesia and the Bolivian Amazon, and financed by the German government. She has also worked on projects socio-environmental projects, together with civil society and non-governmental organizations, for the conservation of the Atlantic Forest, in the south of Brazil and its traditional populations.