Attractions Nearby the City of Trujillo

	Chan Chan Citadel (Trujillo) Visiting Hours: Monday – Sunday 9am - 4pm Location: 6.5km northwest of Trujillo, in the Moche Valley (10 minutes by car) The largest mud city of pre-Hispanic America, the Chan Chan Citadel was declared a World Heritage Site by UNESCO in 1986. Chan Chan was the capital of the Chimú Kingdom and originally covered more than 20 km² from near the port of Huanchaco to Cerro Campana. Archaeologists believe that it housed over 100,000 workshops, streets, walls and pyramidal temples. Its enormous walls are decorated with geometric figures, stylized animals, and mythological beings. The tour is complemented by a visit to the accompanying museum.
	Huaca del Sol and Huaca de la Luna (Trujillo) Visiting Hours: Monday – Sunday 9am – 4pm Location: 8km south of Trujillo (15 minutes by car). The Huaca del Sol (Temple of the Sun) functioned as the political center of the Moche, while the Huaca de la Luna (Temple of the Moon) functioned as a ceremonial center. Between them, there is an urban area composed of houses, large avenues, alleys, corridors and plazas as testaments to the Moche's high degree of political, religious, economic and social organization. The Huaca de la Luna is made up of superimposed temples according to different stages of the Mochica power. On some walls, you can see beautiful multicolored murals whose clearly defined figures represent the god Ai-apaec. In the temple, archeologists have discovered a tomb with more than 40 sacrificed warriors. For the moment, the sightseeing tour only includes the Huaca de la Luna.
	Moche Huacas Museum (Trujillo) Visiting hours: Monday – Sunday 9am – 4pm Location: 300 meters from the Huaca de la Luna Opened in June 2010 the museum is organized into three themed rooms. Furthermore, the structure references the building tradition of the Moche culture.

	Huaca El Dragón (Temple of the Dragon), also known as the Huaca del Arco Iris (Temple of the Rainbow) (Trujillo) Visiting Hours: Monday – Sunday 9am – 4pm Location: 4 km from Trujillo (10 minutes by car), La Libertad This Adobe pyramid is important because it was constructed at the beginning of the Chimu culture and at the end of the Tiahuanaco-Wari culture, between the tenth and eleventh centuries AD. Its estimated age is, therefore, 1100 years. The building has a quadrangular base and its walls are decorated in high relief with zoomorphic and anthropomorphic figures. The name of the temple originates from one of these figures, a two-headed creature with uncountable feet, similar to a dragon. Researchers believe that one of the functions of this temple was for hosting ceremonies linked to rituals in honor of the rainbow and other natural phenomena related to fertility.
	Seaside Resort of Huanchaco (Trujillo) Visiting Hours: Free Location: 13 km northeast of Trujillo (15 minutes by car) According to legend, 800 years ago Prince Tacaynamo and his entourage disembarked in Huanchaco and founded the first Chimu dynasty.
