3. Approval of an IAC

- a. The DRAFT CONTRIBUTIONS shall be discussed preferably at the meetings of PCC.II and shall be approved by consensus by the PCC.II plenary. By consensus, it is meant that no member state present at the PCC.II meeting raises opposition to the IAC. If consensus cannot be reached by the meeting, then the chairman of the PCC.II shall return the draft IAC to the appropriate Working Group of PCC.II for further consideration.

⁶ This procedure could be also applied for the ITU-T and ITU-D when these sectors deal with topics within the PCC.II mandate.

- b. When it is not possible to hold an onsite meeting of PCC.II, a DRAFT CONTRIBUTION can be discussed online whether through Correspondence Groups or virtual meetings of a working group. The convener of the online meeting shall submit a summary report and any DRAFT CONTRIBUTION to the next PCC.II meeting for consideration.
- c. Once the IAC has been approved, the CITEI Secretariat shall forward the approved IAC to the ITU-R, bearing in mind the deadlines for submission to the ITU Secretariat, as specified in the Resolution ITU-R 1 and Resolution 165 (Rev. Dubai, 2018), as appropriate.
- d. The respective Working Group shall propose to PCC.II the person who is to be the IAC's "spokesperson" at the respective meeting of the ITU-R.
